Relationship and Health Education Policy

"Let all that you do be done in love"

Corinthians 16:12

Nurturing hearts, inspiring minds:

Building a compassionate community of lifelong learners.

Our Vision:

We aim to serve our community by providing an education of the highest quality that nurtures and inspires children to become lifelong learners as well as compassionate individuals.

We strive to create an inclusive and stimulating environment where love, community, hope, wisdom and dignity are the guiding Christian values embedded in everything we do.

With these values, we will equip our pupils with the knowledge, skills and character needed to thrive and make a positive impact in their community and the wider world.

All staff hold high expectations that all children have potential talents that require a safe learning environment where learners boldly attempt new challenges and take risks with confidence.

Our cornerstones of city living; diversity; aspirations; and communication, language and literacy, underpin our rich and creative curriculum and place reading at the heart of children's learning.

Through our vision, we want all our children to feel safe, supported and encouraged to grow together academically, socially, emotionally and spiritually.

Together, with parents as partners, we are committed to nurturing well-rounded individuals who lead with love, strengthen their communities, foster hope, pursue wisdom and treat others with dignity.

Our Values:

Love

Leading with love - Love is at the heart of our school community. We foster an environment where love is expressed through kindness, compassion, and respect for one another. We believe that love enables us to build strong relationships, deepen our understanding of diversity, and create a sense of belonging for everyone.

Community

Strengthening our community - We recognise the importance of community and the strength that can be found in unity. Our school community reflects the diversity of 'cityliving' and we value each individual's own unique background and talent. We encourage collaboration and teamwork, as-well as involving parents and families, as we celebrate the richness of our diversity united by our common values.

Hope

Fostering hope - We instill hope in our children, inspiring them to believe in their potential and encouraging resilience in the face of challenges. We provide opportunities for our pupils to dream big, to set goals, and to pursue their ambitions. Through nurturing hope, we empower our students to become agents of positive change in the world, noticing with awe and wonder, the delights of the world around them.

Wisdom

Pursuing wisdom - We value wisdom as the foundation of lifelong learning. We cultivate a culture of curiosity and spirituality where we encourage our pupils to question, to explore, and to discover knowledge and understanding. We strive to develop wisdom within our children to enable them to make wise choices both now, and in the future.

Dignity

Treating others with dignity - We uphold the inherent worth and dignity of every individual within our school community. We foster an atmosphere of mutual respect and create an environment where everyone feels valued, listened to, and empowered. Through our Christian faith, we teach our children to embrace empathy and compassion, acknowledging the dignity of all.

This policy has been developed through consultation with:

- Children
- Parents
- Governing body
- Staff

The policy reflects the Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education (DfE, 2019) and guidance from the PSHE Association.

The Church of England Education Office faith-sensitive and inclusive approach to Relationships Education and Health Education (RSHE) is underpinned by two key biblical passages:

So God created humankind in his image, in the image of God he created them. (Genesis 1:27, NRSV) I have come in order that you might have life—life in all its fullness. (John 10:10, GNB)

All school staff, parents and carers have been made aware of this policy, which is available to view via the Federation website, paper copies are also be available at the school office.

Rationale

Relationships & Health Education (RHE) is a powerful tool to safeguard children and young people. It promotes self-worth and gives children and young people the skills to take responsibility for their health and wellbeing.

The Ofsted (2019) framework states that 'Primary-age children must be taught about positive relationships and respect for others, and how these are linked to promoting good mental health and well-being'.

Our Relationships & Health Education curriculum adopts an holistic approach that promotes positive health and wellbeing.

Definition of Relationship Education:

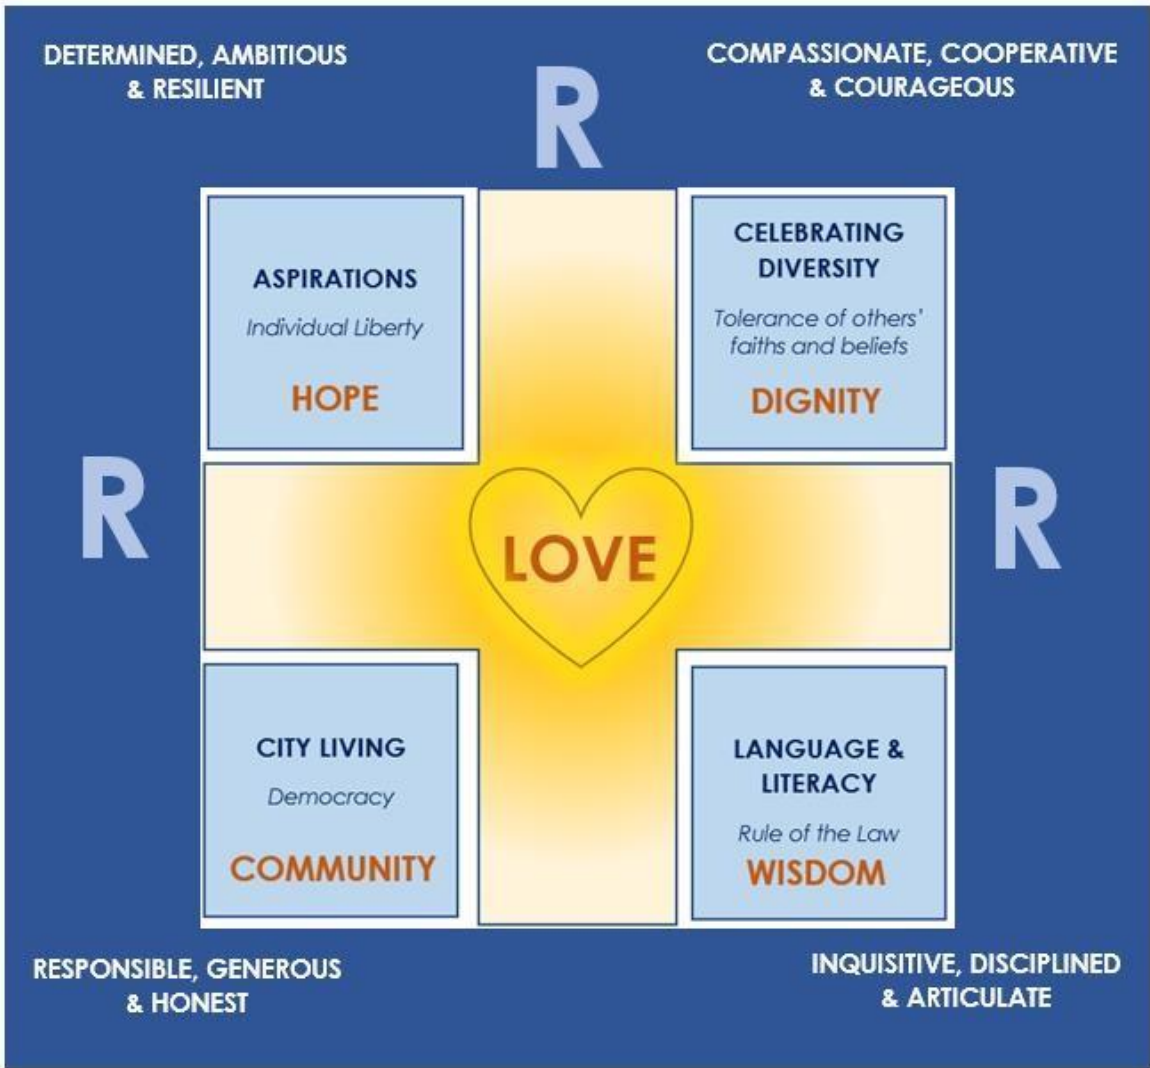

Relationships Education is learning accurate and age-appropriate skills, exploring values and attitudes, acquiring knowledge about the body, reproduction and the life cycle. Relationships Education gives children and young people essential skills to enable them to build positive, respectful relationships, enabling them to lead fulfilling, happy lives. Learning how to stay safe on and offline in the digital world in which they live.

Definition of Health Education:

The focus in primary school should be on teaching the characteristics of good physical health and mental wellbeing. Teachers should be clear that mental wellbeing is a normal part of daily life, in the same way as physical health. This starts with pupils being taught about the benefits and importance of daily exercise, good nutrition and sufficient sleep, and giving pupils the language and knowledge to understand the normal range of emotions that everyone experiences. This should enable pupils to articulate how they are feeling, develop the language to talk about their bodies, health and emotions and judge whether what they are feeling and how they are behaving is appropriate and proportionate for the situations that they experience.

Our school setting

St John Chrysostom Federation serves children from the two schools St. John's C of E Primary School and St. Chrysostom's C of E Primary School. There is a diverse mix of children and families with increasing numbers who are new to the area and the country. The federation has a high proportion of its pupils on free school meals and a high proportion have been identified as having Special Educational Needs. Despite our schools being Church of England, Christian settings, a large proportion of our children and families follow the Islamic faith. The Federation will ensure that relationships education meets the needs of all children within our communities.

Aims and Objectives of this Policy

The overall aim of this Relationships & Health Education policy is to enable effective planning, delivery and assessment of RHE.

Our Relationships & Health Education programme aims to equip our pupils with skills to prepare students for an adult life in which they can

- Develop values and a moral framework that will help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds.
- Understand the characteristics of a healthy relationship.
- Understand how to treat others with kindness and respect, valuing honesty and truthfulness.
- Understand the concept of personal privacy/consent.
- Recognise positive and negative relationships both online and offline.
- Recognise that families take on many forms and to be sensitive about the families of those around them.
- Recognise unacceptable behaviours in relationships and have the confidence and self-esteem to value themselves and manage the situation, or seek appropriate help.
- Know how to report and recognise emotional, physical and sexual abuse.
- Understand the importance of values such as respect (for self and others), equality, responsibility, care and compassion.
- To reflect upon the importance of stable and loving relationships for family life, including marriage and civil partnerships.
- Know the changes that occur to their bodies and emotions as a consequence of growth from childhood to adulthood, learning about the life cycle.
- Develop skills to enable them to make positive, informed and safe choices concerning relationships and healthy lifestyles.
- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place.
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy

Teaching staff within our school will be confident in planning, delivering and assessing the Relationships Education curriculum. They will be equipped to confidently handle sensitive issues and answer both pupil and parents questions, responding appropriately.

Morals, Values, and Equalities Framework

Relationships & Health Education strives to reduce intolerance and discrimination based on sexual orientation, disability, cultural or religious denomination.

Through Relationships Education, St John Chrysostom Federation is working towards the promotion of spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of the child.

- The Relationships & Health Education curriculum (Appendix 1) will reflect the values of our PSHE curriculum and will be taught within the context of relationships.

- The Relationships Education at St John Chrysostom Federation primary reflects our ethos, and encourages children to explore faith, cultural perspectives in a respectful way.
- Relationships Education will be delivered as a whole school approach to ensure that every child has the same level of understanding and will equip them with the skills necessary for transition to adolescence.
- Promoting acceptance of and celebrating difference and diversity.
- Promote gender equality and equality in relationships.
- Challenge gender stereotypes and inequality.
- Develop spiritual, moral, social and cultural awareness in accordance with the Equality Act 2010.

Delivery of Relationships & Health Education

Many aspects of Relationships & Health Education are taught throughout the year, whilst some specific age-related aspects are delivered at a pre-planned point during the year in order that parents are informed and can be involved in supporting their child and respond in a timely manner to questions that may arise from these lessons to reinforce learning.

Relationships & Health Education is delivered by class teachers and at times with the support of the school nurse in mixed gender groups other than when it is deemed more appropriate for topics to be covered in single sex groups (menstruation).

Ground Rules are used in all PSHE and Relationships & Health Education lessons. Pupils are made aware as part of these ground rules that teachers or external visitors cannot promise unconditional confidentiality, if a disclosure is made then the school child protection/safeguarding procedures must be followed.

Relationships & Health Education are taught in a safe, non-judgmental environment where adults and children are confident that they will be respected.

Pupils are able to ask anonymous questions by writing a note for the class worry / question box. This box is found in every classroom. Younger pupils use worry dolls to verbally discuss with adults.

Resources used are flexible in order to meet the needs of the pupils and curriculum. Lessons are differentiated to ensure they are accessible to all.

Correct medical/scientific and inclusive language will be used throughout the Relationships & Health Education PSHE curriculum.

Relationships & Health Education is delivered through a varied range of activities, which promote dialogue and understanding. These include: Circle time, active teaching and learning, role play/scenarios, card sorting, link texts (No Outsiders scheme) and small groups and whole class discussions.

Across both Key Stages, pupils will be supported to develop skills including, recognising and assessing potential risks, assertiveness, self-respect and managing conflict.

External agencies can be invited to support or enhance the delivery of relationships education. These include: the school nurse, the police, NSPCC. External agencies and visitors are invited to make themselves familiar with and understand the school's Relationships Education policy and Child Protection Policy and work within these policies.

All input into RHE lessons is part of a planned programme and negotiated and agreed with staff in advance. All visitors are supervised/supported by a member of staff at all times. The input of visitors is monitored and evaluated by staff. This evaluation informs future planning.

Parental involvement

The Federation is committed to working with parents who are the child's first educator and believes that it is important to have the support of parents and the wider community for the PSHE and Relationships Education programme.

To promote effective communication and discussion between parents and their children, we notify parents through information sessions, letters and the school website about what particular aspects of Relationship Education will be taught. We also encourage an open-door policy to help ensure that parents can discuss issues with the school staff in a positive, sensitive and proactive manner.

Parents are also informed that the Relationships & Health Education curriculum serves to:

- Safeguard and promote the welfare of their children and this is paramount in our Federation.
- To ensure our Federation works in line with the Equality Act (2010).
- Encourage the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of the children.
- Prepare children and young people for the challenges and responsibilities of adult life, enabling them to access all opportunities.

Parent right to withdraw

From September 2020, parents will no longer have the right to withdraw their child from relationships education at primary school (DfE, 2019).

Menstruation and Period Poverty

Period poverty is estimated to affect around 1 in 10 women in the UK. With over 50 food banks in Greater Manchester it is an issue we take seriously as a school.

Pupils are beginning to menstruate as early as in Year 4.

Pupils who are menstruating can obtain sanitary products, as part of the DfE free period products campaign (2020), from any member of staff. Sanitary bins are provided along with guidance on safe usage.

SEND

Our Federation currently provides additional and/or adapted provision for children with a wide range of needs. High quality teaching that is differentiated and personalised will be the starting point to ensure accessibility, in accordance to the SEND code of practice.

Resources used are specific to each pupil based on their cognitive ability and understanding.

Evaluating and monitoring learning

To ensure that the curriculum content and teaching is effective, the delivery of Relationships & Health Education will be assessed and evaluated in the classroom. Pupil evaluation of Relationships & Health Education is carried out via surveys and discussions.

The school will use pupil voice to influence and amend learning activities through questioning, draw and write activities, entrance and exit tickets, mind maps, and discussion.

Relationship & Health Education is monitored on an annual basis by the PSHE Coordinators in the Federation to ensure that the content is relevant for the pupils and resources are updated.

Pupil Involvement

We involve pupils in the development of the Relationships & Health Education curriculum through the Teaching and Learning approach, which promotes dialogue about feedback and learning, enabling teachers to monitor pupils' views.

Relationships & Health Education is taught in a safe, non-judgmental environment where adults and children are confident that they will be respected. Specific ground rules will be established at the beginning of the Relationships & Health Education work, in addition to those already used in the classroom.

Equalities Act

The Relationship & Health Education policy promotes equal opportunities and the school ensures that the teaching programme is an inclusive one and is appropriate and relevant to all pupils, including those with any of the protected characteristics. Teachers ensure that the content, approach and use of inclusive language reflect the diversity of the school community, and ensure all pupils feel valued and included, regardless of their gender, ability, religion, disability, experiences or family background.

Inappropriate actions and bullying are not tolerated at St John Chrysostom Federation and are challenged and dealt with as part of our commitment to promoting inclusion, gender equality and anti-bullying.

Confidentiality and Child Protection Issues

A child's confidentiality may not always be maintained by the teacher or member of staff concerned. Relationship & Health Education discussions or lesson content may prompt a pupil to disclose about related incidents; for example, FGM, forced marriage, child exploitation or abuse. If this occurred or a member of staff believes that the child is at risk of harm or has concerns about any information disclosed, the staff member must inform the named Designated Safeguarding Lead and follow the procedure set out in the Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy. All staff and visitors are familiar with the policy and know the identity of the member of staff with responsibility for Child Protection issues.

The child concerned will be informed that confidentiality is being breached and the rationale for this. The child will be supported by staff throughout the process.

Process of professional development for Staff

Staff are updated via email and staff meetings of developments in key aspects of Relationship & Health Education, including links with safeguarding, inclusion, equality, child protection and anti-bullying.

Regular staff training is provided at staff meetings and INSET days by external organisations, such as healthy schools.
